HISTORY

A privately held company, Midmark has been able to reinvent itself repeatedly for more than 100 years. Formerly the Cummings Machine Company, Midmark was founded in 1915, manufactured cement mixers, then mining locomotives, foundry equipment and custom metal fabrications. Since moving into the healthcare market in the 1960s, we have not only built quality and market-leading products that meet customers' needs for more efficient and effective patient care but have maintained customer relationships built on integrity and trust.

Midmark is focused on helping caregivers and care teams deliver the best patient care with better equipment, smarter workflows and integrated technology. For the medical market, we provide a unique offering of clinical workflow solutions, Midmark real-time locating system technology, medical equipment, diagnostic devices and design assistance, resulting in improved efficiency within health systems.

Midmark emerged into the dental and veterinary markets over the last two decades and continues to grow and incorporate new products and technology into our current portfolios. We use our deep knowledge of the dental care environment to not only help our customers design the space that meets their needs but also provide products that deliver optimal patient care and create a seamless, efficient workflow. Within the veterinary market, we offer solutions that serve the full care continuum of animal healthcare—from boarding and containment to preventive and procedural care. We provide customers a single source for high-quality and innovative equipment, technology, clinical training and services.

OUR FUTURE

Beyond our dedication to enriching the point-of-care experience in the markets we serve, we are passionate leaders, elevating the game and delivering winning solutions to meet customer needs. We are agile, anticipating the future, reflecting and taking action.

As we continue to grow, our commitment to our aspirational vision of anticipating, creating and leading the best healthcare experience for all is unchanged. Simply put, we share a passion for helping others.
