HOPE HAS ARRIVED

Clinic In A Can® delivers healthcare and hope to areas that need it most by repurposing old shipping containers. Using cutting-edge technology and Midmark medical equipment, they build state-of-the-art, clean, secure, temperature-stable and sustainable medical spaces that can be deployed anywhere in the world. Their experience working internationally in austere environments makes them experts in their field. They have used this experience to design and engineer their clinics to withstand the harsh settings that much of the world's healthcare patients face, making Clinic In A Can® the ultimate solution for global healthcare inaccessibility and disaster relief.

Portable

Made obvious by their origin, these modular clinics are easily transportable. Once put into commission, they can be redeployed to another location whenever and wherever needed.

Clinic In A Can® + Midmark Promoting healthcare and hope for all.

At Midmark, we know that strong healthcare infrastructure is hard to achieve and sustain in many economic climates. The need for affordable, high-quality facilities is high, but accessibility is low. Clinic In A Can® is the first of its kind to deliver just that, economical and sustainable healthcare facilities. And above all else, they deliver hope.

Why?

Together, we aspire to create and lead the best healthcare experience for all because we believe that everyone deserves accessible, quality healthcare.

Customizable

Clinic In A Can® will help create a clinic that addresses your specific needs. From critical care to exams, they've got you covered. They offer an assortment of sample clinics that can be previewed online using video tours.

Sustainable

Clinic In A Can® pioneered the ability to use solar power energy as the primary energy source for portable medical clinics, keeping costs low and efficiency high. Solar panels can convert direct sunlight into power for a three-room clinic, each containing air conditioning, lighting and medical equipment. On overcast days, the fully solar-charged batteries will provide power to the entire clinic for about 24 hours.

The Equipment

Midmark is an ISO 13485 and ISO 9001 Certified Company.
