

Donation 2008

Midmark was pleased to donate medical exam tables in 2008 for a series of new clinics being built in the Andes mountain range of Columbia, South America, through TOMA (Tribal Outreach Medical Assistance).

TOMA (Tribal Outreach Medical Assistance)

TOMA supports tribal health care centers among the 45,000 Arhuaco, Kogui and Wiwa people in the Sierra Nevada of Colombia. The current government has made this mountain range a priority for peace, health and ecology. TOMA is the only US medical and humanitarian foundation involved in supporting the healthcare of the tribes through the contribution of supplies, equipment and furnishings.
