Hospital Design

Is a new or remodeled practice in your future?

It may seem daunting to think about such a big project as a remodel or new build when your days are already full and you feel like you can make do with your current practice layout. That's where we come in. By partnering with Midmark, we can help you design a practice that makes you more efficient, helps you retain talented staff and leads to better clinical outcomes for your patients.

Let us design your practice around you.

We will spend time up front discussing your goals, measuring and evaluating your current space, and recommending an optimal design that's perfectly suited to you and your team. We will help prevent mistakes that can cost time and money, and more importantly, avoid wasted time working in a space every day that wasn't designed to fit your specialized needs.

Our in-house design team can help you uncover unforeseen pitfalls before construction ever begins. Throughout the process, we will give you direction on a layout for efficient workflow, but also give you flexibility to choose from multiple configurations for a customized space.

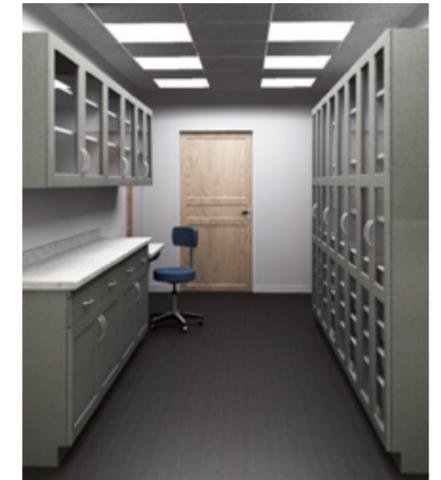

FLEXIBLE DESIGNS + EQUIPMENT

The Synthesis® cabinetry line integrates with all of our equipment to ensure maximum flexibility in functionality and aesthetics, regardless of space limitations.

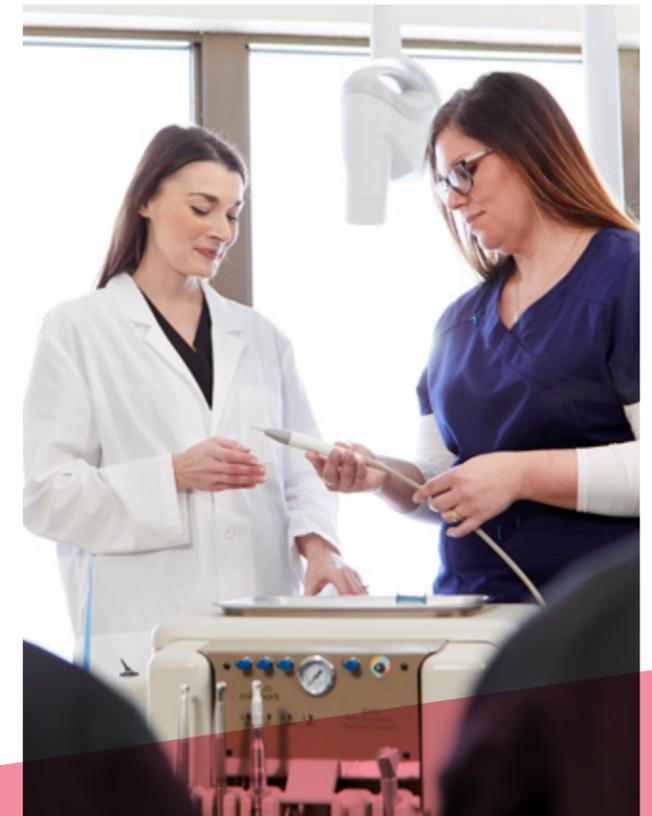

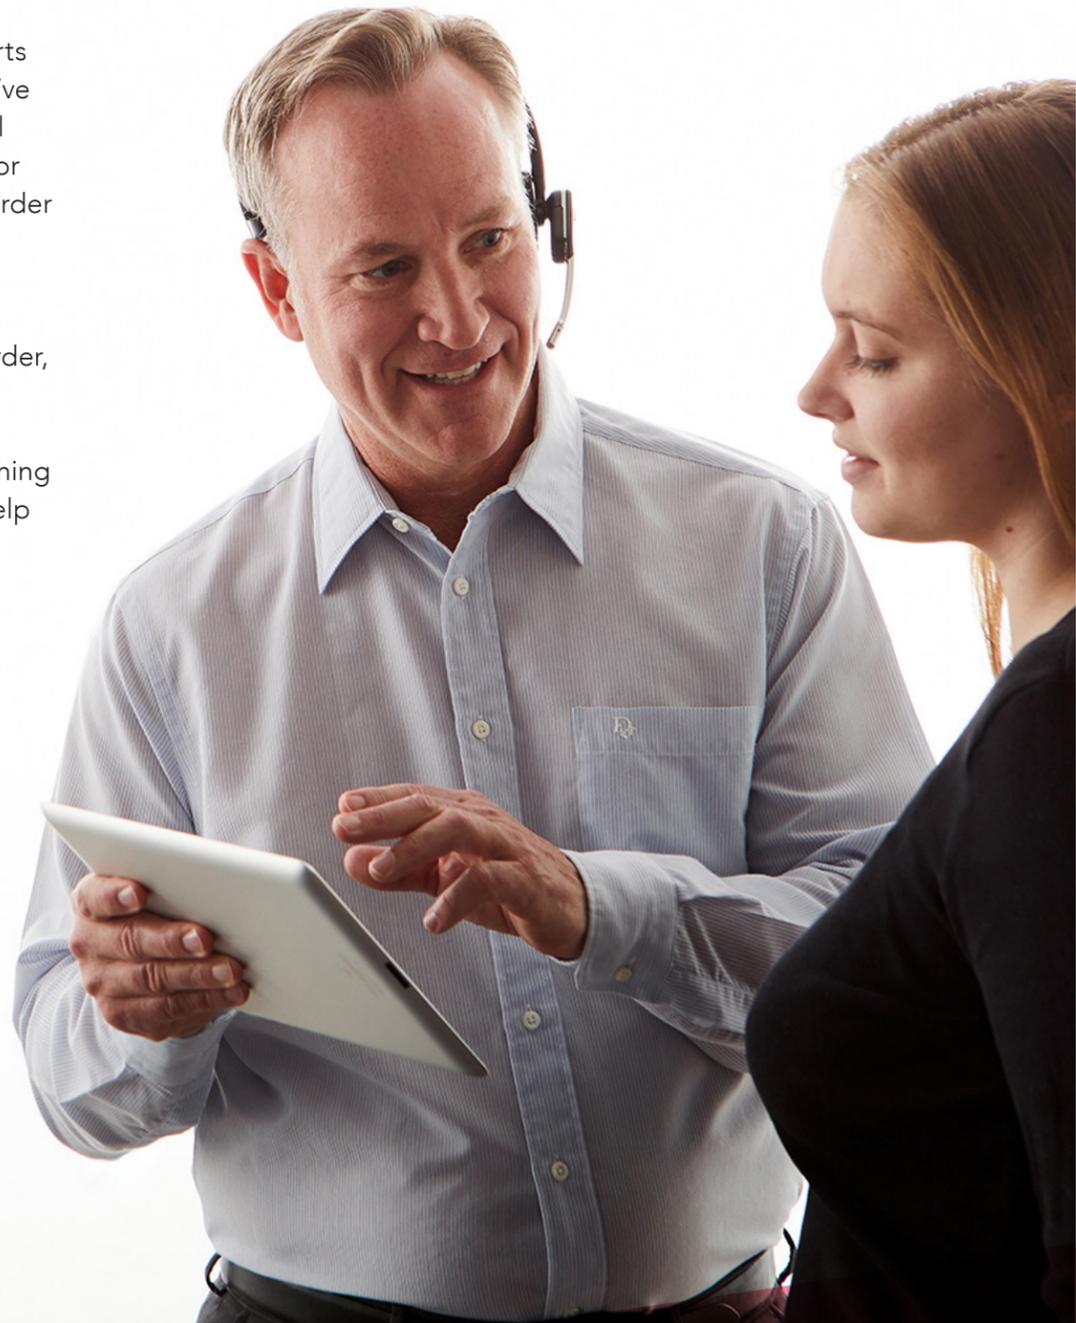

Visualize your space in 3D.

Our expert design team can create multiple configurations of the same space so you can visualize what your options will look like in living color. At this stage, we will also walk you through important cost-related and aesthetic decisions regarding color and finish selections, countertops, handles and other options.

Get the support you deserve.

Here your project really starts to come together. After we've finalized all the details, we'll help you place your order for all the cabinetry—built to order right here in the USA—containment and clinical equipment you've chosen. Once you've placed your order, we'll see you through the details from delivery and installation to post-sale training and support. We want to help you get up and running quickly—and get the best use of your space.

“Our experience with the team at Midmark has surpassed our expectations. After visiting the Midmark plant in Ohio, our decision to use their products was solidified. The engineering behind the designs, the team approach to creating our vision, and their superior customer service made the decision easy. As fulltime veterinarians, hardhats are not typically part of our clinical uniform. Midmark leading our cabinetry design process has allowed us to build a state-of-the-art facility while practicing full time.”
